

Magazines

There are a few which are written and published in Edinburgh.

I-on magazine is still regarded by some as a bit of a newcomer but it now has its feet firmly under the coffee table. It aims to give a flavour of what's on in Edinburgh and covers things like beauty, fashion and property in 100 pages. It carries a lot of advertising from restaurants and bars in Edinburgh as well as fashion shops in the city, so it is a good wee read for the visitor and the citydweller seeking some inspiration. It has competitions and is also available online as well as free from certain outlets.

The List is exactly what it says. It is a fortnightly guide to what is on in Edinburgh and Glasgow and lists restaurants, cafes, pubs, shops. It also carries interesting features between the covers. It carries a list of useful statistics about Edinburgh on this page, and an article about the Editor Jonny Ensall's attempt to turn green here. Essential reading to plan a day or night out in the Edinburgh area.

Do you know of any more which are written here in the Capital? Well let us know!