

Connecting Social Innovation 2010

✖ _This takes place at The Melting Pot, Saturday 6 – Sunday 7 November 2010

What if you could make a difference locally...but with global help? What if you could connect with other social innovators in the UK to generate and work through ideas, and then link up with passionate visionaries around the world to share resources and make those ideas happen?

Cosil0 (Connecting Social Innovation 2010), the 'UnConference', is an exciting means to that end. Join us in Edinburgh for a weekend of workshops, linked with similar events around the globe, to explore ways of accelerating sustainable social innovation and to win a £500 cash award. Please note – space are limited.
