

Scottish Green Party Conference in Edinburgh 5-7 November 2010

✘ The Greens are holding their national party conference in Edinburgh this year, when their leader and still relatively new MP, Caroline Lucas, will be among the speakers.

Edinburgh's Robin Harper will be making his final address as an MSP. You can also hear from Patrick Harvie and Andy Wightman who is billed as a leading land reform campaigner.

From the Friday night meet up in Milnes Bar on Rose Street to the Saturday night Ceilidh, this is a party political conference with a difference! The theme of the conference is Green Scotland : Making it Happen.

You can get more details of how to book a place on the Greens website.
