The beauty of a multimedia news site is that we have access to all kinds of news in all kinds of formats. Here, below, for example, is the November 4th edition of First Minister's Questions from Holyrood. In the same way as the Prime Minister of Great Britain is subjected to the weekly ordeal of being asked to account for himself, the First Minister of Scotland is answerable to the Scottish Parliament, and each week has to answer questions as to his actions and those of the other ministers who form The Scottish Government. This takes place at Holyrood each Thursday at noon when both written and oral questions are put.
