

Baxterbear goes to the zoo

☒ You may remember that we had a chat with Baxterbear recently, which you can read here. It now seems that he has joined forces with Edinburgh Zoo in his quest to raise funds for charity.

Baxterbear was born on the 29 February 1928 and spent most of his early life in Scotland. In fact in the 1930's he made his first visit to Edinburgh Zoo and even got to meet Sally the elephant. Since then he has fought in World War II and has been a tea and coffee tasting bear. He loves to travel and is looking forward to having many more adventures.

During 2011 you will get a chance to meet him at a special event here at the Zoo, however in the mean time you can purchase your very own Baxterbear to take on your adventures from the Edinburgh Zoo gift shop.

To find out about Baxterbear's latest adventures please check out www.baxterbear.com