

Way Back Home – Danny McAskill cycles from Edinburgh to Skye

☒ Danny McAskill is a stunt cyclist. If you don't know that then you might have been abroad for a while...

If you really don't know anything about him then you can learn a little from his YouTube story here

Originally from Skye, he has been spotted many times on the streets of Edinburgh, usually trying to ride his bicycle up a tree somewhere. And Edinburgh features prominently in the film released in 2010 showing him riding home....not exactly taking the conventional route however.
