

Coffee shop jobs in Edinburgh

✖ Avalanche Records have openings for new staff. The Grassmarket shop is launching its coffee shop in a week or two and is advertising for new staff.

We will open up the coffee shop in the next week or two and are looking for enthusiastic, cheerful and motivated staff with their own ideas on how to build up this new part of Avalanche. Lots of friends who drink coffee will be an advantage but successful applicants will also need to be flexible and available for the foreseeable future so those with long holidays or national tours planned need not apply. While the coffee shop will be the main part of the job successful candidates will also be involved in the running of the shop and our online activities. Applications with CVs can be handed in at the shop or sent by email to avalancherecords@hotmail.co.uk Candidates need to make it clear the times and days they are available for work as from that we will work out possible permutations of how the hours available will be filled. Training will be given, even to those with previous experience.
