

Greg Sinclair's Ditto premieres at The Traverse 20 -22 January 2011

Ditto is a music performance which explores the space between sounds; the space between one thought and the next; the space between our emotions.

Composed as a direct response to a research study in three Edinburgh primary schools, Ditto is the culmination of Greg Sinclair's artist residency with Imagine.

Performed by a quartet of singer, clarinet, trombone and percussion, each performance will be a journey into new musical territory.