

Danny MacAskill Documentary to Premiere in Edinburgh

Edinburgh-based stunt biker, Danny MacAskill, will be sharing the premiere viewing of his new documentary 'MacAskill Conquers' with his fans. After releasing a video on YouTube in April 2009, filmed by his flatmate Dave Sowerby, MacAskill attracted widespread media attention. Overnight, the video was viewed a few hundred thousand times, and has now been seen by over 23 million YouTube viewers.

Following the success of a second video in November last year, this 'behind the scenes' documentary will give 50 lucky fans the chance to see interviews with Dave Sowerby and Danny himself. This ten month project will bring together all that he has achieved in the last two years. The first showing, taking place at 7pm on Sunday 20th February, will be held at The Green Rooms at The Hawke and Hunter, Picardy Place. To register for free tickets for this exciting evening, click here

For those who miss out on free tickets, the documentary will be broadcast on Red Bull TV the same evening, so that everyone is able to watch MacAskill's transformation into his apt nickname "Danny Megaskill"

Photo from the official Danny McAskill Facebook page