

Premier Inn Launches Edinburgh Airport Hotel

✘ Premier Inn launches its latest Scottish hotel at Edinburgh Airport today.

Festivities will include an official ribbon cutting, food and wine tasting, live music and entertainment from pupils of local primary schools, who have each designed a plane, the best of which will be displayed in the hotel foyer.

The hotel will have 119 rooms and over 50 jobs have been created. Owing to its proximity to the airport, each room in the hotel is fitted with acoustic windows to make sure each guest has a good night's sleep.

Laura Crow, General Manager of Premier Inn Edinburgh Airport, Newbridge, said: "We are delighted to be opening a new Premier Inn hotel in Edinburgh. We have a great location, which is ideal for people with an early or late flight. The hotel is also in close proximity to the city centre."
