

Zapcat Racing in Leith 2 & 3 July 2011

☒ A Zapcat Grand Prix decided by count back of heat wins, an amazing 180 degree spin out and gale force winds all played their part in making Edinburgh 2010 the most exciting City Championship event ever!

Were you one of the many thousands of spectators who saw some of the amazing action last year?

Or did you see the photos in the papers and wished you had gone to one of the best free events of the summer?

You will get that chance again as Zapcat powerboat racing returns to the stunning waterfront location of Leith Docks this weekend with the Ocean Terminal Edinburgh Zapcat Racing Grand Prix once again promising to be one of the best free spectator events of the 2011 race season.

Saturday July 2nd & Sunday 3rd will provide non-stop action from 11am throughout the afternoon as rounds five and six of the Zapcat Racing National Championship is competed for.

To add more incentive for the teams, Edinburgh is the only City Championship host venue this year and also the only Scottish stage of the Celtic Cup.

"We're really looking forward to Edinburgh again," said Martin Jupp, Event Director of Zapcat Racing.
