

Edinburgh Festival Fringe Review: Mogic (*)

Mogic is comedy magic that has the audience laughing from start to finish. The mail order magic kit has arrived with only an instructional tape cassette, now what can possibly go wrong ...? The cast and stage production staff are all professionally trained which really brings up the quality of the production. This is a very challenging show with a huge set in a small theatre that could not normally be put on by an average amateur dramatic group. The cast make full use of the whole auditorium with an element of audience participation too. Some proper magic tricks are performed which leave the audience wondering how it was done.

A very entertaining Mogic hour !

You can see them at the C Soco, daily at 5.10pm until 29th August. (<http://www.edfringe.com/whats-on/comedy/mogic>)
