

Five things you need to know today

The Save Inverleith Park campaign has advised us that:- “The Report on Inverleith Park will NOT now go to the Policy and Strategy Committee on Tuesday 9th August. It is delayed until Tuesday 6th September. We will know what it says on 31st August” The matter was on the agenda for 9 August but will clearly now be delayed. Our photo shows a slightly more peaceful corner of Inverleith Park.

Greener Leith have an interesting article about the emissions from biomass plants. It shows that there would be increased emissions for the first two and a half centuries...yes you read that right – centuries...

Clovie PosterA bit more immediate this one – you can help clean up in Clovenstone today in the big annual clean up. More details on Facebook.

The BBC reports that the final inspection of the panda enclosure will take place in October when the Chinese delegates will visit Edinburgh to cast their eye over the handiwork. Maybe then we will get the pandas for Christmas?

We thought you might like this YouTube video of the man who tunes the piano at The Usher Hall. Any other YouTube videos we should know about? Do tell us!
