

Protest at the Scottish Low Carbon Investment Conference today

A girl band dressed as 'oily bankers' protested this morning outside the Royal Bank of Scotland sponsored Scottish Low Carbon Investment Conference being held at the Edinburgh International Conference Centre.

Pictured from left are Mary, Gail, Emilia, Hannah, and Beth (first names only as they are a girl band!), activists from Friends of the Earth Scotland, singing Jessie J's recent chart-topping "Price Tag" song, with lyrics cunningly altered to tell the story of RBS's highly destructive oil and gas investments, including the mining tar sands in Canada.

Photo courtesy of Colin Hattersley Photography

www.colinhattersley.com

colinhattersley@btinternet.com

07974 957 388

Oh and here's the song....