

Polo – Indoor polo at Gleneagles this winter

Over the winter months, Gleneagles Hotel are holding a series of indoor arena polo matches.

Thom Bell, Scotland's highest rated Polo coach, will be hosting the matches and, as some of Scotland's best players are involved, the play will be a to a fairly high standard. Thom referees and commentates during the matches, as well as running a short demonstration of techniques and rules before each match commences.

The arena itself, as one would expect of Gleneagles, is to the highest standard with heating and seats for 700 spectators, as well as standing areas to the side. Thom is also hoping that, possibly this season but more likely next, he can involve a few more teams and run a proper season-long league.

The remaining dates to note are 27th November, 18th and 26th December and the 1st January(!). Play starts at 2:00pm and runs until about 4:00pm. Entry is free to all and there is no requirement to be a Gleneagles guest to simply turn up and enjoy.

Words and Photo – John Preece

Web – <http://www.photoboxgallery.com/jlp-photography>