

Janey Louise Jones book reading

Every wee girl believes she should be a princess – and so do some grown-ups! Edinburgh writer Janey Louise Jones also believes in fairies and she's is launching a new series of both her Princess Poppy and Cloudberry Castle ballet school books this summer.

To celebrate, The Bonham is hosting an exclusive book reading when young fans are invited to go along in their best 'princess' dress to listen to Janey read from the books, enjoy some princess games and a specially created afternoon tea just for Princesses!

The Janey Louise Jones Book Reading afternoon takes places on Sunday 10 June 2012 between 2-3.30pm. Tickets are £17 per child and include a book reading; princess games during the reading; a signed copy of Janey's new book 'Royal Parade'; sandwiches, cakes and juice served after the reading; and tea and coffee for mums and dads. Princess dress is encouraged....
