

Madonna Loves cupcakes

Or at least someone in her entourage does! Candy Cupcakes got an order to send some round to the pop star before her performance at Murrayfield on Saturday night and here is what they despatched to the songstress.

Elaine at Candy Cupcakes had this to say:-

“At Candy Cupcake we were very excited when we received a phone call from Madonna’s personal chef asking us to provide the fabulous Madonna with cupcakes for her to give to a friend for her Birthday at her concert at Murrayfield. We made her a selection box of Chocolate Cupcakes with fresh Scottish berries on top, Vanilla Cupcakes with pink flowers and Red Velvet decorated with pink flowers.They were tied up with a bunch of assorted balloons.Fabulous :)”

Well we know that the Material Girl did not exactly go down a storm last night at Murrayfield but from the photo we think the cupcakes looked delicious. Were you at the concert? What did you think?
