

Cyclist identified as Tollcross man

Lothian and Borders Police can now identify the cyclist who died following a collision with a vehicle in the Scottish Borders on Monday 6 August 2012.

He is Mark Sanderson from Lochrin Place, Edinburgh.

The 53-year-old died at around 4.20pm on the A703 Edinburgh to Peebles road, approximately 300 metres north of Peebles.

Mr Sanderson, who was travelling north, lost control of his bicycle and veered into the southbound carriageway, colliding with a Fiat Panda.
