

Edinburgh Festival Fringe Trojan Women

We recorded a little snippet of this show by Lancaster Offshoots on the Royal Mile today to offer you a flavour of what you might hear in the show itself.

The show is billed as a ramshackle travelling folk band in a unique production as they recount the tale of the Women of Troy. Original verse and song tells each woman's story.

At the Space @ Symposium Hall from 3-26 August 2012.
