

Edinburgh Reporter Chats – Yolanda Luca

A third generation has taken over at the helm of Edinburgh firm of S Luca in the last couple of years. Granddaughter of the founder of the ice cream empire, Yolanda, is in charge of the retail side of the business, and her latest venture is to open a police box on Rose Street to sell ice cream and coffee.

The coffee noises at the start of our interview only bring back the great taste of the latte The Reporter enjoyed with her at the start of a busy week.

We also caught sight of the S. Luca Rolls Royce at Foodies which is another retail outlet for the firm.
