

Muirhouse Link Up's pop up shop

Appropriately the Muirhouse Link Up project has taken over a former butcher's shop this week to bring information to locals about ongoing projects that they might be involved in. As well as this however there are opportunities for local residents to start up their own projects with funding from Cashback for Communities. Link up is part of the Inspiring Scotland project.

The Reporter went to Muirhouse this morning to meet Julie Crawford on the last day of the venture to find out what the purpose was and also to find out about the Big Map!