

TERLive! Edinburgh Council meeting 13 December 2012

The council was only elected in its current form in May 2012, and today they meet for the last time this year as a full council. The council now offer live webcasts on their own website, where you can hear and see every word that is said, but we hope to add to your understanding of that by our live coverage from the floor of the City Chambers here. Feel free to join in the debate by using Twitter with the hashtag #edincouncil or by adding your own questions and comments below.

We took this video outside the City Chambers before the meeting started:-

Your browser does not support iframes.