

Impulse Magazine 2013 launches across Edinburgh

✘ An annual publication created by Edinburgh Napier University students is to be distributed to numerous locations across Edinburgh from today.

Impulse Magazine, which features arts & culture, lifestyle and sports content, is designed as part of a third-year module on the BA Journalism programme. Within the past four months students have pitched and written articles for the magazine and its website, as well as putting design, photography, sub-editing, , fundraising, podcasting and researching skills into practice.

Full details about stockists of the physical copy can be found here. Impulse Magazine is also on Facebook and Twitter.