

Rock and Roll Wedding

Today, Edinburgh couple Abbie and Craig are getting married in what will be a first, not only for the Hard Rock Café in George Street, but for any Hard Rock Café in Europe.

The happy couple are both 22 years of age and they are very excited, but at the same time very relaxed about the whole event. They told The Reporter that because Hard Rock Café and their Sales and Marketing Manager, Lesley Ross, had pretty much taken care of everything, a massive workload was lifted from them.

Abbie and Craig went to school together at East Craigs Primary and were childhood friends. Indeed, a film producer would pay good money for their story :- childhood friends through to being married.

The Reporter wishes them the very best for their wedding and indeed their future as man and wife. Here is our Barry Dickson speaking to them before the big day...
