

Danny MacAskill – free screening of new film tonight in Edinburgh

SCOTTISH PREMIERE OF DANNY MACASKILL'S IMAGINATE DOCUMENTARY

The latest instalment of Scottish street trials sensation Danny MacAskill's long-awaited new riding film, Imagine, will have its Scottish premiere in Edinburgh this evening.

The six-part documentary series from Red Bull takes you inside Danny MacAskill's mind as he prepares for his most ambitious project so far. Danny has been given free rein to build the kind of set up that has allowed him perform tricks that have, until now, been a pipe dream.

Red Bull are treating cycling fans and film goers to some epic riding as they transform The Ross Band Stand in Princes Street Gardens into a bespoke outdoor cinema experience for the Scottish premiere of Imagine.

The premiere is a free, non-ticketed event and those lucky enough to get a seat will be treated to some incredible footage and an audience Q&A with Danny himself. For an exclusive sneak preview of the Danny's Imagine premiere, fans can view the riding clip online from 18 June.

The event kicks off at 8pm, followed by audience Q&A with Danny.

Experience the world of Red Bull like you have never seen it before. Join the legendary Danny MacAskill in Edinburgh on 22 June for the fiercest film of the festival.
