

Anger at tram workers' car park

TRAM workers have sparked fury by creating a private car park in an area fenced off to other road users.

Angry shopowners, struggling to stay in business because of disruption caused by the works, say up to 15 vehicles parked in a “laughable abuse of position.”

Last summer, tram workers were ordered to stop parking family cars behind temporary fences on Princes Street.

More from Deadline News...