

Edinburgh Festival Fringe – Aberdeen Glasgow and the World

Laughing Horse @ The Newsroom 1-25 August 1700 (1 hour) Free

In 2010 Chris Stephen emerged from Aberdeen to bring and showcase North-East Scotland's finest comedians to the Edinburgh Fringe. Now teamed up with Debbie Overell, a trained theatre technician, they are Ginger Ale Comedy, a non-profit organisation that has performed sell-out shows throughout Glasgow as well as packed showcases for many festivals including the Edinburgh Free Fringe Festival and the Glasgow International Comedy Festival, not to mention corporate gigs as well as comedy marathons for charity. For two consecutive years, Ginger Ale Comedy has brought together some of the best, brightest, maddest, strangest and unexpected acts for a show that has played to full and sometimes over-full houses in many of the Laughing Horse Free Festival's finest venues. In this final showcase, they will once and for all put to bed which team has the finest, funniest, or maybe even just the most insane comedians as for one last time the battle rages between ABERDEEN, GLASGOW and THE WORLD! – Let battle commence!

So, who's on?

In past shows they've been able to secure some of Scotland and beyond's finest new comedians and established acts, such as:

Leona Irvine Harry Garrison Ed Whitley Greg Davysson Jamie Rolland Sarah Short Joe Hullaith Hamish Tennant Jane Walker Rod Hunter Sarah Cassidy John Purves Struan Logan John Mitchell Ed Whitley Pearse James So You Think You're Funny Winner 2010

James Kirk Peter Wood Allan Park Scottish Comedian Of The Year
2011 Jamie Dalglish Geoff Gawler Tiffer Robertson Britain's
Got Talent semi-finalist Anna Devitt Adam Strewth John Aldiss
Scott Riley Jane Walker Obie Jim The Hobbit Ross Main Jordan
R.A. Mills Tim The Dead Theory Conspiratist Tony Laing Tony
Littler Daniel Webster Scottish Comedian Of The Year 2012
Eddie Cassidy Iain Pollock Ray Zambino...and many more!