NCP's pre-book parking is just the ticket for Edinburgh Festival Fringe

With almost 2 million expected visitors at this year's Fringe and demand for car parking anticipated to be high, NCP, the UK's largest car park provider, has launched a special parking offer for festival goers to ensure guaranteed, hassle free parking by booking early.

By pre-booking parking at NCP on Castle Terrace, customers will receive:

- A guaranteed space
- A meet and greet service
- A dedicated fast track entrance
- The ability to book up until 10pm the day before to secure a guaranteed space
- An exclusive rate of £29.99 for a 24 hour stay

The car park which is perfectly located for the festival and open 24 hours a day with staff onsite, will still be open to customers at the normal tariff, but spaces are expected to be in high demand and availability on the day cannot be guaranteed. So customers are advised to book early and avoid disappointment.

Roger Ashley, NCP Head of Operations for Scotland said; "We have created this special Edinburgh Fringe Festival offer in the hope of making parking easier and more convenient for customers. Many of the people attending the festival won't be local, so may not know the surrounding places to park if the first place they arrive at is full. We hope that by offering customers the opportunity to pre-book parking at our Castle

Terrace car park will make the whole experience even more relaxed and enjoyable.”
