

Edinburgh Festival Fringe INTERVIEW – Cast of The Bloody Ballad

The Bloody Ballad, Assembly Roxy 7:45pm, until 25 Aug (except 12, 19), £12 (£10 concessions)

With many glowing reviews (including ours), the cast of The Bloody Ballad are thoroughly enjoying their Fringe experience. Described as 'part gig, part slasher movie and part murder ballad', the chemistry of the cast, combined with the catalogue of excellent songs, make it an enjoyable hour and a quarter that transforms the audience to 1950s America and into the lives of the memorable characters.

In this audio interview, Lucy Rivers, Hannah McPake, Oliver Wood, Dan Messori and Tom Cottle speak about their parts in the show, how it compares to their previous work and they reveal some future plans:-