

Win tickets for White Christmas at the Festival Theatre

PLEASE NOTE THIS COMPETITION IS NOW CLOSED....

White Christmas is coming to the Festival Theatre from the end of November until the beginning of January. With three well-known TV personalities playing the main characters and an Irving Berlin score, this is set to turn even the most bah humbug among you into a tinsel waving happy holidaymaker.

The story is well-known and was first told in the film starring Bing Crosby with whom the song, White Christmas, became instantly identifiable, and other songs include Happy Holidays and Sisters.

Now thanks to the lovely people at Edinburgh's Festival Theatre we have two tickets for the performance on 3 December 2013 to give away to one lucky reader.

To recognise our fabulous August visitor numbers we asked some of our contacts to offer our readers something as an Edinburgh Reporter Reward.

In August the number of unique users visiting this website rose to two and a half times the number of people reading The Edinburgh Reporter in January 2013. Remember if you have a story for us you can submit it through Submit your Story, or if you are a business you can advertise with us. We also now accept £1 donations to help us retain our position as Edinburgh's hyperlocal news website – just look for the donate button!

Today the Edinburgh Reporter Reward we have on offer is two free tickets for the press night at the Festival Theatre to see White Christmas.

All that you have to do is send us an email to theedinburghreporter@gmail.com with Edinburgh Reporter Rewards in the subject line giving us the answer White Christmas.

The winning entry will be selected from all winning entries received by 2 October 2013 at 5:00pm

Meantime here is our interview with the director, David Morgan about the Broadway style production which will need 13 pantechincons to bring all the costumes, wigs and props to Edinburgh.
