

ADLP – lawyers who mean business

Clearly the right solicitors for your business

Solicitors Alistair Dean and Michael Wells explain how ADLP works in partnership with businesses to help them achieve their goals:-

No business owner wants to be involved in a legal dispute. But if it is unavoidable, you need the best solicitors on your side. And you need to know exactly where you stand and how much it is likely to cost.

ADLP is a ground-breaking, legal firm set up in 2009. We know that clients do not like the traditional legal billing process, so we don't work like that. Our goal is to give you cost certainty and peace of mind.

So, how can we help you? Disputes about contracts can often arise, but we cut through the complexity. Terms and conditions can cause disagreements too, so we advise on how to make them as clear as possible. We also help recover debt, to keep your cash flow moving in the right direction. Our track record speaks for itself: 90% of our clients' debt recovery actions are settled out of court, saving them valuable time and money.

And that's not all. Whatever legal issue your business is facing, sound us out. Whether the next step is mediation, or litigation, you can be sure our advice will clarify what is right for you.

Of course, there is always a price tag attached to high quality legal advice.. But we make it affordable, by offering fixed fees, agreed in advance and a monthly retainer service, so you can budget for the bills. In some cases, we will even assess your prospects of winning and share the risk with you.

That means that if you lose, you don't have to pay us.

You want honesty and transparency from your solicitors and we agree. Fairness, transparency, honesty and integrity are our core values and are reflected in everything that we do. For instance, if we don't believe that a case will be found in your favour, we will tell you.

So if you need a legal advisor who will work in partnership with you to achieve your goals, please give us a call on 0131 225 6750.
