

Monday Must-Have – Rosie Sugden Scarf

It looks like Jack Frost will be making an appearance this weekend so it's time to buy a cosy scarf and wrap up warm. I love this luxury cable knit scarf from Scottish designer Rosie Sugden. Her designs are influenced by the rolling hills of the Scottish Borders and the striking landscapes she encountered during her travels in India and South East Asia. This 4-ply scarf comes in a rich warm purple or bright sunshine yellow and although it's more expensive than other lighter weight scarves this cosy 100% cashmere number is worth the investment (£159.00). Rosie Sugden's local stockists include Thistle Street denim boutique ALC. Find more of her designs online.

Ann Russell is a fashion writer and has her own fashion blog here.