

Rabbie's Girls Night Out in January

Edinburgh-based charity Royal Blind's much-loved event 'Rabbie's Girls' – a super-glam Burns Night just for ladies – is returning on Friday 31 January 2014 and tickets are available now.

Rabbie's Girls is taking place in the stunning Balmoral Hotel and being hosted by hilarious comedienne Jo Caulfield (star of TV's 'Mock The Week' and 'Never Mind the Buzzcocks').

This special evening is the perfect way to shake off the January Blues and help raise funds for a fantastic Scottish charity.

Guests on the night will be treated to:

- A bubbly reception with Loch Fyne oysters
- A sumptuous 4 course menu with complimentary wine
- A fabulous goody bag full of treats
- Traditional Burns Night speeches with a feminine twist
- A unique raffle where everyone is a winner!

Tickets cost £79 per person, or £790 for a table of 10 – tables are selling quickly, so book now to avoid disappointment!

If you are interested in attending, contact Gemma Gillespie on 0131 229 1456 or gemma.gillespie@royalblind.org for more information.

You can also visit the website to book your ticket now.

Don't miss out on this unique night of fun, glitz and haggis!

Further information

For further information please contact:

Gemma Gillespie

Royal Blind

Tel: 0131 229 1456