

Virgin Atlantic offer double cabin baggage this Christmas

Virgin Atlantic's domestic service – Little Red – is doubling its complimentary baggage allowance from Boxing Day to 2nd February. Passengers travelling between Aberdeen or Edinburgh and London Heathrow can check in two 23kg bags each plus additional sports luggage free of charge.

Little Red will also be providing sale fares during this period, offering return flights from Edinburgh from £88 and return flights to Aberdeen from £99.

Virgin Atlantic Little Red will be providing bargain-hunting shoppers with a little helping hand post-Christmas as the airline announces it will be doubling its complimentary baggage allowance on all Little Red routes, ensuring you can shop until you drop in London and transport your bounty home for free, without worrying about cramming into train luggage racks or battling terrible traffic jams.

Those visiting family and friends over Christmas will also benefit from the additional baggage allowance, enabling them to travel home with their piles of presents at no extra cost.

The baggage promotion will run from Boxing Day (26th December) to 2nd February on flights between Aberdeen or Edinburgh and London Heathrow. In addition, Little Red flights to and from Aberdeen will be available from a sale fare of £99 for the same period, further reducing the cost of Christmas. Edinburgh return flights to Heathrow can be booked from just £88.

Virgin Atlantic is also making sure to get those last minute travellers home for Christmas, with Little Red being the only public transport option for getting between London and Edinburgh on Christmas Day with all other air and train services cancelled.
