

Salmon fishing season opening ceremony on River Almond

Salmon fishing to open on 1 February 2014.

Cramond Angling Club are holding their annual opening day on Saturday 1 February 2014 for salmon fishing which usually starts around 9am at the Cramond Waterfall area at the side of the River Almond. Access to the waterfall is down to the bottom of Scholl Brae just off Whitehouse Road, parking the car in the car park the waterfall is less than a minutes walk upstream.

All are welcome to join in the event. The usual small BBQ is laid on free and a wee dram for anyone wishing to partake. This year Cramond Angling Club will be officially presenting a brand new bench in memory of a 90yr old founding member of the club Tam Wallace. The bench and memorial plaque was paid for by the members of the club.
