

Update missing Edinburgh woman traced

Police in Edinburgh have thanked the public for their for help in tracing an Edinburgh woman who had been missing from her home in the capital since 3pm yesterday.

Fifty-seven year old Eva Stewart failed to return to her home in Caledonian Crescent as expected and Police became increasingly concerned for her welfare.

She was traced this morning in the Dalry area.