

Appeal for missing Livingston man

Police in West Lothian are appealing for the public's help in tracing a man who is missing from the Livingston area.

30 year old David Baird was last seen at St John's Hospital around 9.15pm yesterday evening.

Police believe David may be in the Airdrie area, but they are increasingly concerned for his welfare.

David is described as white, 5ft 8in tall, slim build, short black hair which is spiked on top, and he was last seen wearing a grey hooded top and dark trousers.

Inspector Davie Fyvie said: "We are greatly concerned for David's welfare and I would ask anyone who thinks they may have seen David in the Livingston or Airdrie area to get in touch with us immediately."

Anyone with information should contact Police Scotland on 101 or information can be given anonymously to Crimestoppers on 0800 555 111.
