

Edinburgh Festival Fringe – God's Own Country

God's Own Country

World Premiere adaptation of the award winning novel by Ross Raisin

North Yorkshire farmer Sam Marsdyke is struggling. Everything is changing and sometimes it feels like everyone in the whole valley hates him. Except her. Fine Mess Theatre present an affecting, unsettling and darkly comic one-man show. Adapted by Kyle Ross and Joel Samuels from the award-winning novel by 2009 Sunday Times Young Novelist of the Year Ross Raisin. Praise for the novel: 'Like no other character in contemporary fiction' Sunday Times. 'Powerful, engrossing, extraordinary' Observer. Praise for Fine Mess: 'Beautiful storytelling and the kind of piece you feel richer for seeing' BroadwayBaby.

Tickets from ZOO Southside

117 Nicolson Street
Edinburgh EH8 9ER

8pm (55 mins)

August 1st & 2nd £8

August 3rd – 25th £10 (£8)