

Save Our Safari!

Edinburgh Zoo has decommissioned the safari and Christopher Welsh is annoyed!

So annoyed is he in fact that there is a petition here which needs another 200 or so signatures. If you are as annoyed as Christopher then maybe you could head over there and sign it too?

“The management at Edinburgh Zoo have seen fit to decommission the hilltop safari, citing they need ‘outside investment’ to make it viable. Profits running into the £millions and an internal sponsorship department mean the only reason a service doesn’t exist is because management don’t want one.”

From January the zoo has offered a mobility vehicle which can carry up to four people including a wheelchair passenger to most locations throughout the zoo.
