On Saturday, beloved children's author and illustrator, Nick Sharratt – famed for bringing the Story of Tracy Beaker to life – entertained children at John Lewis Edinburgh as part of a special charity storytelling session. The retailer's Story Time initiative, raises money for Barnardo's to help support the UK's most vulnerable children whilst highlighting the importance of interaction and communication in a child's early development.

Barry Blamire, head of branch at John Lewis Edinburgh said: "At John Lewis Edinburgh, Barnardo's is a charity very close to our hearts and Story Time is an excellent initiative which promotes reading, whilst raising money for children in need.

"We are very grateful to Nick Sharratt for giving us his time. Nick is a hugely talented author and illustrator whose stories have inspired generations of children. His session was great fun and entertained children, parents and staff alike."

To join Nick Sharratt in supporting Story Time with Barnardo's and John Lewis text 'JL' to 70500. This will donate £5 to support Barnardo's and their work with the UK's most vulnerable children.
