200 blood packs ready for the Edinburgh Fringe

With 240 on-stage deaths during the run of Riptide: The Slasher Musical at the Edinburgh Fringe, the blood will be flowing.

Riptide: The Slasher Musical is a new musical with songs by two classically trained brothers, Simon and Mark Nathan, and book by NSDF award winner Chazz Redhead.

A parody of 80's horror films and teen musicals – think Little Shop of Horrors meets Friday the 13th.

The story will have you howling with laughter – or terror! – the songs are catchy, poignant and exciting and the audience leaves humming the big show stopping numbers.

A vibrant team of young professional actors and musicians come together in this Slasher Surf Spectacular. With sweeping romance, epic tunes and just the kind of guys you don't want to meet on vacation, this is one road trip you'll never forget!
