

North Edinburgh Young People's Forum Short Film Sessions

This week there will be some short film sessions by young people attending the forum. The ideas so far are looking at safety – in relation to motorbikes, parks/ green space and some thoughts about the area/community.

The idea is to make a short film about it, with the young people taking photos and doing the filming with some support from Forum members. They will also edit it and then the young people will have the final say on what it looks like.

This will be the first time NEYPF have tried this although they have done two mini younger youth forum sessions before, they were based around sport, art and drama focusing on anti-bullying and the community.
