

Assault in Whitburn

An assault on a woman which is alleged to have taken place yesterday at about 6.30pm was reported to police who are now looking for witnesses. The woman said that she was assaulted by a man on Longridge Road.

Detective Inspector Paul Carroll, of Livingston CID, said: "We are keen to hear from anyone who was in, or driving through, Longridge Road on Saturday evening and who saw a man in his early 20s, approximately five foot nine inches in height, and was wearing blue clothing.

"If they were in that area at the time saw anything suspicious, they are asked to to come forward. We are following a positive line of enquiry, however still need to hear from anyone who may have witnessed this incident."

Anyone with information should contact Police Scotland on 101, or through Crimestoppers on 0800 555 111"
