

Compromised votes reported

Police Scotland can confirm that they have received some reports of compromised votes. A Police Scotland spokesman said: 'Police Scotland takes the safety and security of the Independence Referendum extremely seriously and is working with partner agencies including local authorities and the Chief Counting officer to ensure the integrity of the ballot. Any crime committed will be investigated appropriately.'