

Effie Gray – The Edinburgh Reporter on the big screen

We are not given to blowing our own trumpets very often, but this time we really can't help it.

Our very own Douglas Greenwood wrote a review of the film Effie Gray here.

Now we are quoted (alongside Vanity Fair no less) on the promotional poster which Douglas spotted last week on London Underground.

And we are featured at the end of this trailer here.

Yes we are quite chuffed! The only trouble is that we cannot find any upcoming dates for the film in Edinburgh – but it will be showing in Glasgow.

