

Mumpreneurs launch new Edinburgh branch

The Mumpreneurs Networking Club launched a new branch of their brand in Edinburgh this week meaning that their network now covers a total of 17 venues.

Guest speakers at the launch event include the Depute Lord Provost Deidre Brock and comedian/actor/broadcaster Jojo Sutherland.

The Mumpreneurs Networking Group is designed to bring together mothers who are entrepreneurs and would like to network with other women. The time together is spent not only brainstorming and bouncing ideas off one another but is also sometimes used as just a release. The new branch is headed up by local businesswoman, wife and mother of two, Beverley Anderson.

The Edinburgh Mumpreneurs Networking Club meets ten times a year at each venue and they welcome new and current members to join. They are not an exclusive club. Everybody is welcome.

The Next Edinburgh Event Is Tuesday December 2nd 11:00am – 12:30am at Premier Inn, Haymarket, Edinburgh

The Mumpreneurs Networking Club was started in 2009 by Nicky Chisholm and Sara Guiel and quickly grew to 1000 mums in the first year. They opened their first location in East Sussex. Their locations are now in Arundel, Little Hampton, Brighton, Chichester, Chingford, Walthamstow, Chiswick, Crawley, Edinburgh, Emsworth, Havant, Harlow, Epping, Horsham, Lewes, Richmond, Twickenham, Shoreham, Teddington and Worthing.

For more information about the upcoming event or The Mumpreneurs Networking Club visit:

<http://www.mumpreneursnetworkingclub.co.uk/>

-END-

Submitted by Beverley Anderson

