

Police warn of heavy traffic at Inqliston tonight

In about an hour's time the roads outside Inqliston Showgrounds are expected to be busy with traffic as spectators leave the darts competition taking place there.

Police are urging motorists to take caution as there are about 1500 people at the event and so many cars will be on the roads soon.

Drivers are asked to be mindful of the increased number of pedestrians and ensure they maintain a safe speed. The last tram leaves Edinburgh Airport at 22.45 so presumably not too many darts fans can use the tram to get back to the city, unless they leave early.
