

Man charged with attempted murder following M8 death

Police investigating the fatal road collision on the M8 in the early hours of Saturday morning in which Murray D'Angelo lost his life have arrested and charged a man in relation to an incident that occurred immediately prior to the collision.

The M8 was closed for 10 hours as officers investigated the scene.

A spokesperson said: "A 23 year old man has now been charged with the attempted murder of a 34 year old man and he will appear at Edinburgh Sheriff Court."
