

Police appeal to trace relatives of Elizabeth Fowler

Police are appealing for help in tracing relatives of a woman who died suddenly in the Capital.

Elizabeth Fowler (71) was found dead at her home in Heriot Place, Edinburgh on Wednesday 28th January.

There are no suspicious circumstances surrounding her death and a report will be sent to the Procurator Fiscal.

It is believed she has a daughter who was born Fiona Mhairi Ried who is now about 38 years old.

Police are appealing to anyone who has information that can help them trace any surviving relatives to contact them on the non-emergency number, 101.