

Ahoy there! What have you got on your head?

The lovely folk on the Royal Yacht Britannia sent us a couple of photos today to cheer you up even if the weather has turned cold again!

It appears that someone thinks the Antony Gormley sculpture should become a little more distinctive....

We asked the sculpture but we're not sure that he heard us. In any case there was no reply.

